Free Flow Dance Theatre Company Now Has Charitable Status!

As a not for profit organization, Free Flow needs your help as we rely on the generosity of individuals like you. Your generous support will allow us to continue to offer these services and performing arts to your community. Your investment in the future of Free Flow is vital to the development of our programs.

Free Flow is a leading edge Canadian dance company known for its innovative and risk-taking modern choreography. The driving philosophy behind the company's projects is that dance is fun and should be accessible to people of all ages and interests.

Founded in 1995, the company has performed in venues all over Canada including Kitchener/Waterloo, Ottawa, Guelph, Cambridge, Brampton, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, North Battleford, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria. In order to bring their art to an audience that may not otherwise seek out dance, much of their work has been performed in non-traditional venues, Fringe Theatre Festivals as well as in traditional theatres.

Free Flow is a not for profit contemporary dance company funded in part by the Saskatchewan Arts Board, City of Saskatoon and Canada Arts Council. We host numerous events annually including the Works in Progress New Dance Series, Back Alley Antics, a Community Dance Workshop program and an International Dance Day Celebration.

All donations to Free Flow of $20 or more will be issued a charitable donation tax receipt.
