International Dance Week Artistic Collaboration Application

Free Flow Dance Theatre will host a 4-7 day, in-person/online hybrid showcase, to spotlight the cultural diversity of Canadian dance artists. The event promotes cross-cultural collaboration, and successful applicants are tasked with creating original short works ranging from 12 to 20 minutes. Following their performances, artists will engage in a 5-10 minute talkback session to provide insights into their creative process.

We prioritize collaborations between BIPOC artists working with contemporary or cultural dance artists. Daily in late April, one artistic project will be featured in-person/online. All performances will be recorded and preserved on the Free Flow Dance Theatre company website or YouTube channel for future public viewing.

Performer honorariums, basic project funding, travel funding, and administrative support will be provided, contingent on the funding secured by Free Flow Dance. Successful applicants are expected to operate within the budget allocated to them upon acceptance.

Applications should be submitted to freeflowdance@gmail.com no later than January 4th with Dance Week Collaboration Application - YOUR NAME in the email header. Thank you.
